

Farmhouse Restaurant

In order to employ people and use our organic and eco made product we also build a farmhouse restaurant, for show customers how cooking change so close by using of natural and healthy products.

Our aim is to share with you the sensation to be in your own home, warm and welcoming like it.

All the stuff here are made with recycle roots and all the waste are to in order to protect environment and make our custom happy and free to bring example in their life or spread this way to do.

Restaurant also is an ethical activity point. Indeed people set cultural meaning to spread international plates, making also to children and young people how is important to preserve cultural differences and make it lasting.

All tools are made with bamboo cane or maybe with palm leaf and at the and of the lunch time or dinner time all tools are put on a container in order to become manure for plants, but in some cases they were used in order to make hand-made items.

This is an example:

All items sold by recycling waste are used to make new tools for our business. We
